

The REBA Deal Tracker FAQ

Q: What makes REBA's Deal Tracker unique?

A: The REBA Deal Tracker is set apart from the rest by tracking announcements. It is unlikely that a deal will be announced and not go live, thus ensuring the REBA Deal Tracker is accurately representing what is or will be on the grid.

Q: Does REBA keep data included in the Deal Tracker confidential?

A: Yes. REBA will never share specific member data that is not already in the public domain. REBA does not distribute underlying data or analysis methods used to inform the Deal Tracker to ensure confidentiality and equitable services members.

Q: Why don't you track onsite deals?

A: To date, REBA has exclusively tracked offsite deals. Offsite deals are typically announced publicly, making it easy for REBA to track and share. Onsite deals are usually not announced publicly, so it difficult for comprehensive tracking. Onsite deals can be, and are, impactful but other groups are better positioned to track onsite deals.

Q: How frequently do you update the Deal Tracker?

A: The Deal Tracker is updated quarterly. The most up to date version can be seen here.

Q: What can I do if I don't see my company's deal on the Deal Tracker?

A: Congratulations on your new deal, we are sorry it was missed! Please send an email to communications@rebuyers.org with a link to a public announcement for your new deal and any additional details you would like to include.

Q: Can I use and share REBA's Deal Tracker?

A: Yes, please attribute the Deal Tracker image with the following: "Credit: Renewable Energy Buyers Alliance (REBA)" and direct audiences back to the REBA website. Please do not change or manipulate the Deal Tracker. The Deal Tracker is subject to copyright.
